

RECIPES

When I cook I'm a throw it together type of guy and usually things turn out pretty well. However, I was hunting for a recipe that Mother used to make and I thought that I would try it. Mom's memory is not what it once was and she was not a lot of help so I thought I would delve into her recipe box and see if I could find it.

In so doing I found a lot of memories that kind of touched my heart. In my search I recognized my grandmother's hand writing. There were several from aunts long gone. I saw May's deviled eggs, Steina's buns. I then thought of Lillie's salad and the dish she always brought it in, an so forth. In a way it was kind of sad and in another way these old hand written recipes brought many happy memories as a kid eating everyone's special dishes at pot-lucks and family reunions.

The family reunions are no more, in fact, what is left of my kin could easily sit around a dining room table, yet, the recipes live on.

The Bible is the recipe for life and eternity. I need not tell you that it contains everything that we need for life and godliness, 2 Peter 1:3.

John tells us how we are to walk in the light and if we don't we are lying to ourselves, God, and man, I John 1:5-10. In this same passage he gives us the recipe to know fellowship and whether or not the Savior's blood is cleansing us or not.

In Ephesians 6:10-18 is Paul's recipe for warding off the devil with the proper battle attire. James lists a recipe to keep us out of trouble by being active in the Lord, James 1:19-27.

Sometimes we can get too enveloped in the desires of life for food, clothing, and the prideful things of life that we fail to really see the important things in life, 1 John 2:15-17.

Let's follow these and other recipes from God's Word for a happy, fulfilling, and eternally rewarding life. —David Shearer
